

Crosslisting Courses

This tutorial will inform you as to what a crosslisted course in blackboard is and what steps to take to crosslist your own courses.

1. Crosslisting is beneficial when you teach one or more sections of the same course and would like to have only one blackboard course to control them all.

2. If you would like all the sections of a specific course you teach to be crosslisted simply email the registrar (registrar@harding.edu) with the course name, sections that you would like to crosslist and their respective CRNs.
