

2001 Distinguished Alumnus on NASA Mission Team

Clayton Anderson, Alpha Chi's 2001 Distinguished Alumnus, is slated to fly to the Space Shuttle Endeavor in August 2007 with NASA's STS-118 mission team, his first space flight. A flight engineer, Anderson will remain at the Space Station three to six months. Anderson is an Alpha Chi alumnus of the Nebraska Alpha chapter at Hastings College. Read more at the NASA Web site www.nasa.gov/mission_pages/shuttle/shuttlemissions/sts118/index.html