Section 2: Application Guidelines for Counseling Practicum and Internships

Counselor graduate students should carefully read and follow the guidelines described herein. Failure to follow these guidelines may result in delays in enrolling for practicum/internship and/or a less than satisfactory internship experience.

Preparation Steps Procedures for preparing for Practicum (611) and Internship (613):

A. Obtain a copy of this handbook. Familiarize yourself with the information in the handbook.

B. Fill out Limitations of Supervision Statement of Understanding (Form A) and Statement of Professionalism (Form B) on the Prac/Intern Student page of our web site (www.harding.edu/gradcounseling). These must be filled out at least one month before you start practicum or internship.

Section 3: Guidelines for Obtaining a Field Site

Obtaining a field site is a joint responsibility of the faculty and the student. Counseling faculty will assist prospective counseling interns in obtaining potential practicum/internship sites. However, it is the students’ responsibility to research possibilities for a potential practicum/internship. The student is responsible for contacting the university faculty for guidance as needed. Students may request the faculty in charge of practicum/internship placement to make a follow-up contact for obtaining a field site. If the student has been unable to obtain a field site after several interviews, he or she should contact the faculty for further assistance.

Specific guidelines for prospective counselor interns and practicum students trying to obtain a field site are listed below:

A. Identify about three sites where you wish to interview for a field site placement.
To be eligible to be a site supervisor, the supervisor must be a Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC), a certified school counselor, or have a Masters in a related field. The supervisor must have a minimum of two years of professional experience. The supervisor must be available to supervise the intern a minimum of one hour/week. If the site is an approved site, the student may then schedule an interview at the site.

Additionally, the Supervisor Qualification Form (Form 6) must be completed on our web site by the supervisor. A copy of this form is found in section 5 of this handbook.

B. Interviews

Make interview appointments with the appropriate contact persons in the field sites you selected in step A. General instructions for the interview follow:

1. Be prepared to talk about your preparation for participation in the internship. For example, take a list of courses that you have already completed or are in the process of completing. Describe any counseling or related experiences you have had. It is advisable to prepare a resume listing your academic preparation as well as other pertinent information about yourself. Remember that this is a professional interview; you want to present yourself accordingly.

2. Before attending the interview, please read and become familiar with all of the information in this handbook. Please note that when you visit with the field site supervisor, you should let the supervisor know that you need to be able to participate (under supervision) in a variety of counseling (individual, group, family) and inter-related experiences (staffing, in-service, workshops, intakes, interviews, assessments, etc.) as appropriate to our training and the site’s needs. Internship (613) requires that you spend 50 hours for each semester hour at the site each semester (please note that these hours must be accumulated evenly throughout the semester and therefore cannot be obtained in 1-2 months). From the total of 600 hours for internship (COUN 613), a total of 240 hours must be obtained in direct counseling with clients. The remaining 360 hours may be obtained in indirect counseling or direct counseling. From the total of 200 hours for practicum (COUN 611) 80 hours must be obtained in direct counseling with the clients. The remaining 120 hours may be obtained in indirect counseling or direct counseling. Both practicum and internship require that in addition to class work/class supervision at the university, you must have a minimum of one hour of regularly scheduled supervision with your site supervisor each week. For Advanced Internship (COUN 787) you will need to log 50 hours of service per 1 credit hour of class. That will be 20 hours of directs services and 30 hours of indirect services.

C. You may receive and tentatively accept an internship appointment at the time of one of your interviews or the field site interviewer may give you a specific time when he or she will get back to you. Otherwise, you should wait about a week to hear from the site(s), then give them a call and ask about their decision.

D. After you have received oral confirmation from the contact person at the field site, you should give this information to your university supervisor. The university supervisor will then contact the field site contact person and make arrangements for a formal, written confirmation of your field site placement. Be sure that you know from the field site contact person(s) when you expect to begin your internship.
E. If you have questions, concerns, or difficulties during the above process be sure to contact your assigned university instructor or supervisor.

F. During the practicum/internship at your field site, your field site supervisor has supervisory and administrative responsibility for field site activities. Your University faculty instructor will stay in phone contact with your field site supervisor as necessary and desirable. The faculty instructor will not generally visit your site during your internship, unless this is necessary or desirable, or unless the field site supervisor or you request a visit. At midterm and at the end of the semester, the field site supervisor will complete an evaluation form (Form 9) on your practicum/internship activities. You will also evaluate your own work, the supervisor’s work, the instructor, and the site (Form 10).

G. If special problems or concerns (counseling, supervisory, interpersonal, etc.) should arise during your field site practicum/internship experience, you should inform your faculty instructor immediately. The university instructor is responsible to work with you and your on-site supervisor to properly handle any special problems or concerns.

H. At the beginning of your internship semester, the faculty instructor will give you more specific guidelines about the extent to which you are expected to discuss field site issues during on-campus group and individual supervision sessions.
Section 4: Supervision Guidelines for Field Site Supervisors

Introduction

These guidelines are designed for field site supervisors who agree to provide supervision to counseling students in the graduate counseling program at Harding University. The guidelines briefly describe the training/educational objectives of the practicum and internship and the roles and responsibilities of field site supervisors in helping the counselor trainees achieve these objectives.

Site Supervisor Orientation

The site supervisor will go to www.harding.edu/gradcounseling/supervisors and read through the Student Handbook and the Field Experiences Handbook. They will also submit their Supervisor Evaluation Form on this page as well. After reading through the expectations of students, site supervisors, university faculty, they will read through supervision ratios, forms, and timelines. They will then complete the Acknowledgment of Site Supervisor Responsibilities & Orientation (Form 7) and submit that online.

General Structure of Practicum/Internship

Harding University's Professional Counselor Program requires all candidates for the master's degree in counseling to complete a supervised counseling practicum and internship experience. At the master's level the requirement is a supervised 9 hour sequence of practicum and internship. The first semester begins with a 200-hour practicum (COUN 611) in which practicum students are expected to gain initial experiential familiarity with counseling and guidance responsibilities, primarily by way of observation and counseling practice, guided learning of site practices and procedures, and guided participation in site activities. The second and possibly third semester, which constitutes the internship (COUN 613), requires 600 hours of supervised counseling/guidance and related responsibilities with clients. An intern can enroll for 3-6 hours in internship to meet the required 9 hours course credit and 800 hours of supervised counseling/guidance and related activities which make up the practicum/internship experience.

In summary, a minimum of 200 hours is required for practicum, and a minimum of 600 hours is required for internship for completion of the Masters in Counseling. Internship may be taken over of two semesters.
Minimum Counseling Supervisory Requirements

1. Practicum students must have direct counseling experiences with clientele three or four hours per week, for a total of 80 direct hours and 120 indirect hours during the practicum experience. (Note: Approximately the first month of the practicum student’s first semester is an initial field experience during which time the student is participating primarily by way of observation. Thereafter, the student should be given supervised responsibility for counseling activities.)

2. Internship students must have direct counseling/guidance or related experience with clientele on a weekly basis, for a total of 240 direct hours and 360 indirect hours during the internship. The total should be at least 600 hours that semester.

3. The Advanced Internship students must accumulate a total of 100 hours of counseling experience for every 1 hour of credit. A minimum of 40 hours of direct service work with clients and a minimum of 60 hours of indirect hours are required.

   The direct hours may include:
   a) guidance curriculum (e.g., classroom guidance activities, group activities),
   b) responsive services (e.g. individual counseling, small group counseling, crisis counseling, consultation, referral), and
   c) individual planning (e.g., individual appraisal, individual advisement, placement)
   d) Individual and Group Counseling/Therapy

   Of the remaining hours, time spent in activities that are directly beneficial to a client or group of clients you are serving and/or part of the expected daily routine of the practicum/internship site(s) are suitable to count toward these remaining hours. Time spent in travel, on lunch, or time spent in other classes (other than practicum and internship) are examples of hours that do not count. If you have any questions as to what hours are suitable please contact your instructor as soon as possible to ensure hours are counted properly. Please exercise good judgment in what you choose to count, as final judgment will rest with the instructor.

4. All interns and practicum students must have the opportunity to provide on-going counseling or counseling related services with at least 2-3 clients over at least several sessions. Interns should not be restricted to only intake interviews but should have the opportunity to engage in the full range of service activities that the field site offers to clients.

5. Beyond these minimums, the intern should be given as much opportunity as possible for substantial counseling and counseling related activities.

6. All practicum and internship students must receive an average of at least one hour per week of individual supervision from a qualified supervisor. (See roles and responsibilities in this section 4)
Goal and Objectives of the Supervised Field Practice in Counseling

In addition to supplementing and enriching classroom experiences, the supervised field experience is a method of training characterized by "doing." These experiences introduce and engage the counselor trainee in activities and judgments fundamental to counselors' regular professional responsibilities.

Goal

The goal of the practicum/internship is to provide the student a transitional counseling experience by engaging in a practical, day-to-day work scheduled under the close supervision of a competent counselor who can assist the student in refining professional skills, according to their level of development, while still working in a learning situation. For practicum and internship students, this goal is understood in terms of entry-level professional competencies. A very significant factor in the success or failure of an intern's field experience is the quality of supervision. Sensitivity to the professional needs and the particular personality of the trainee is recommended to create and foster an atmosphere facilitating professional growth. The field experience emphasizes the importance of:

1) working with actual cases in a variety of environments to provide better understanding of services and professional conduct; and
2) training that remains educational in purpose, but is, by school/school district or institutional standards, productive.

Thus, through the joint efforts of the Harding University faculty, the counselor trainee, and the school/school district/institution supervisor, the trainee is supported in becoming a knowledgeable, skilled and disciplined counselor.

Objectives

The type of professional skill refinement the faculty hopes to observe in the trainee is suggested in the following objectives.

The intern/practicum student will demonstrate, in accord with his or her level as a master’s student:

1. Counseling orientation and task competencies in accord with masters program level
2. Essential professional identity and ethical code competencies
3. Interviewing and counseling (theory and practice) competencies in accord with master level program
4. Assessment and appraisal skills in accord with master’s level and program concentration
5. Essential vocational evaluation and adjustment competencies (school counseling interns and others in accord with programmatic concentration)
6. Essential case management competencies including knowledge of available reference and resources
7. Consultation and coordination and psycho-educational competencies according to the nature of the intern's program emphasis and field site placement
Roles and Responsibilities

Field site supervisors are responsible for having knowledge of the goals and philosophies of the counseling profession and being supportive of these in their interaction with the counselor trainee.

Since each student varies in personal and educational readiness, the site supervisor should clarify counseling, consultation, and coordination responsibilities and expectations with the counselor trainee. The site supervisor must provide the student a minimum of one hour/week individual supervision. The content and process of the supervision is determined on an individual basis between the student and the supervisor. University supervision will also be provided on a group basis during the bi-weekly seminar meetings and at times individually for practicum students.

The University recommends that the overall sequence of supervised filed experiences be divided into three major phases: (1) orientation, (2) observation, and (3) participation. For master's practicum students, in particular, (that is, those in their first semester of field experience), activities should begin with orientation and observation. For interns (those in their second or third semester of field experience), the bulk of experiences should be in the participation category. These categories of experiences no doubt will overlap.

The following activities, listed according to phase, are suggestions for the field site supervisor in planning the student's program. The school/institution of each specific field setting and the past experience and knowledge of the supervisor may alter the procedures.

b. Staff/administrative meeting

3. Criteria for Client Case Selection
a. It is the faculty’s belief that cases of maladjustment and mild dysfunctions are best for practicum students. Cases that are typically representative of those served in the school are appropriate for interns.
b. It might be best to choose cases with a minimal number of reality limitations (e.g., limited time available for appointments, resistance to come on the part of the client) so that students can accrue experience on a consistent basis.
c. A balance of new and old cases could give the counselor trainee experience with the various stages of counseling.
d. The cases selected need to have some prospect for change or movement so that the trainee experiences some degree of success.
e. It would be best if the nature of the problem is such that the trainee and client can work through to the solution and develop a plan of action.
f. As the trainee gains self confidence and skill, increasingly complex cases can be assigned.
g. The cases selected might best be those that the on-site supervisor can use for instructive purposes.
h. The selection of cases is best based on whether they challenge, but do not overwhelm, the professional development of the counselor trainee.

D. Counselor Trainee’s Role
Trainees should arrange their work schedule to conform to school/school district/clinic requirements, precedence being given only to attendance at University classes in which they are enrolled. The school or institution regarding dress, time of arrival, and departure, confidentiality of information, holiday and "coffee break" time, notification in case of illness, etc., should be followed.

Trainees are expected to engage in all of the activities normally engaged in by the school's or institution’s staff and counselors at a level commensurate with their experience and responsibility. Although school/institution/clinic personnel would retain ultimate responsibility for case disposition, interns should be encouraged to exercise independent judgment as often as possible.

E. Site Supervisor’s Role
It has been found that supervised field experience is most effective for the counselor trainee and the school/institution if a qualified and interested staff counselor/supervisor is appointed to oversee the trainee's work and provide general guidance. Only a person in the setting can really understand the problems encountered and can evaluate the trainee's work on the basis of practical experience. For example, a supervisor would be beneficial to the trainee in helping to explore general reactions to the various roles a counselor is asked to assume and to follow school/school district policies and procedures, in discussing present and new cases, and in adjusting to developments in the field. To this end, it has been found that interns work best if a regular weekly schedule is set each week for supervisor-trainee consultation and if the supervisor is available to the trainee at other times for less formal assistance. The supervisor--as a representative and advocate for the site and the counseling profession --can help the trainee find a series of experiences that would be instructive to the role as counselor.
The supervisor can use the trainee's performance in these activities as an objective basis from which to evaluate the trainee at the end of the semester.

F. University Role
In addition to the practicum/intern student’s field site, the student also spends time in individual supervision with the university supervisor and in-group supervision during class sessions. However, the University delegates supervisory and administrative responsibility for field site activities to the field site supervisor. The University faculty instructor for the practicum/internship will stay in phone contact with the field site supervisor as necessary and desirable. The faculty instructor will not generally visit the field site during the internship, unless this is necessary or desirable, or the field site supervisor or intern requests a visit. At the end of the semester, the field site supervisor will be asked to complete an evaluation form on internship activities. (Copies of this form are given to field site supervisor at the beginning and end of the semester.)

The University provides regular individual and group supervisory sessions at which the counselor trainees are expected to present and discuss cases accompanied by tape-recorded interviews. If possible, the school/school district/institution or clinic is asked to authorize, with written client permission, the taping of field site counseling sessions for occasional on campus supervision. The site supervisors of the trainees are welcome to attend the on campus group supervisory meetings, especially when their interns/practicum students are presenting cases for discussion. While course guidelines may vary depending on the faculty member teaching the course (or section of the course), the overall objectives are basically the same for all sections of practicum/internship.

G. Special Problems
If special problems or concerns (counseling/clinical, supervisory, interpersonal, etc.) should arise during the practicum/internship, the site supervisor should contact the University internship faculty instructor immediately, depending on the nature of the problem. It is the responsibility of the University faculty instructor to work with the site supervisor and the intern to resolve any special problems or concerns.

H. Conclusion
The practicum/internship experience is considered a vital part of the academic programs in counseling at Harding University. It offers the opportunity to put theory into practice and serves as a catalyst for personal and professional growth necessary for entry into the counseling profession.

The University is very grateful for the professional service that site supervisors provide counselor interns in this critical phase of their professional education and training.
Section 5: Summary of Field Site Requirements for Prospective Interns/Practicum Students

Prospective practicum students/counselor interns may use this summary as a quick information guide in their interview with a field site contact person. This summary represents only an excerpt of all requirements and guidelines, which students should be sure to read thoroughly.

Preferably, interns will work in one site for both semesters of their internship. This enables them to eventually work as a regular staff member and develop ongoing client contact. The specific requirements are as follows:

1. After adequate orientation and training, students should be involved in the full range of activities and services offered by the site. The University recognizes that the service will vary depending on the philosophy and goals of the site and the clients served; typically these services include:
   a. Individual counseling
   b. Group/Family counseling
   c. Career development
   d. Appraisal and assessment
   e. Information dissemination
   f. Staff meetings
   g. In-service training
   h. Consulting
   i. Referral
   j. Program development and evaluation
   k. Maintaining records

2. During the semester the student is enrolled in practicum, students must spend at least 200 hours in practicum experiences. This includes time spent at the site (11-12 hours per week) and time spent in university individual supervision sessions.

3. During the one or two semesters the student is enrolled in internship, students must spend a minimum of 600 hours at the internship. This includes time spent at the site (29-31 hours per week) and time spent in the classroom seminar and supervision sessions. Interns are also expected to see a minimum of eight clients per week at the field placement. During enrollment in a 6-semester hour internship in which a minimum of 600 hours are required, 240 hours must be in direct counseling with the remaining 360 in indirect counseling. The student must counsel at least 3-4 clients as ongoing clients.

4. During each semester the student is enrolled in advanced internship, students must complete 50 hours at the internship site(s) per credit hour enrolled, (20 direct and 30 indirect).

5. If clinic/school/school district policy permits, with the client's written permission, students should audio or video record their field site counseling sessions. These may be used for supervision at the university and should be helpful for the on-site supervisor. Clients' anonymity is guaranteed. A "Consent to Record" form should be included in the client's file at the internship.

6. All students must receive a minimum of one hour per week of individual supervision from their site supervisor. The site supervisor must have at least a master's degree in counseling, or a related field such as psychology or social work or, an appropriate license or certification, and at least two years of professional supervision experience.

7. The on-site supervisor is asked to complete an evaluation form for the student usually in the middle and at the end of each semester.

8. The student is asked to complete an evaluation form on the field supervisor at the end of each term.

9. The on campus faculty member or assistant teaching the course will stay in phone contact with the field site supervisor as necessary and desirable. The faculty member may visit the site during the semester to discuss the student’s progress and consider any problems that may arise.

10. Students will maintain a log that outlines all practicum and internship activities. (See Section 9, Practicum or Internship Student Record.) The site supervisor will review and sign the log during the semester to verify that the logs are accurate.

11. In addition to the on-site activities, students meet as specified in class on campus under the direction of university faculty where cases are discussed and tapes are reviewed. Practicum students also receive individual supervision from the university faculty.

12. Specific requirements are outlined each semester in the course syllabus.

F.8.b. Impairment
Counselors-in-training refrain from offering or providing counseling services when their physical, mental, or emotional problems are likely to harm a client or others. They are alert to the signs of impairment, seek assistance for problems, and notify their program supervisors when they are aware that they are unable to effectively provide services. In addition, they seek appropriate professional services for themselves to remediate the problems that are interfering with their ability to provide services to others.

F.9.b. Limitations
Counselor educators, throughout ongoing evaluation and appraisal, are aware of and address the inability of some students to achieve counseling competencies that might impede performance. Counselor educators

1. Assist students in securing remedial assistance when needed.
2. Seek professional consultation and document their decision to dismiss or refer students for assistance, and

Advanced Internship Action Plan
(Form 17)

Advanced Internship is designed for you as the clinician or the school counselor to further your experience and gain new clinical or school counseling experience. This class may be taken for 1 credit hours. Before beginning the coursework, you will need to meet with your faculty supervisor to fill out the ADVANCED INTERNSHIP ACTION PLAN. This plan will identify how you will receive your hours throughout the semester and what specific duties you will need to fulfill.

Action Plan:

Based on the number of credit hours for which you are enrolled and the amount of hours you will be logging, you and your faculty supervisor will identify the amount of supervision which will be required throughout the semester. This supervision may be done individually with the faculty supervisor or in a group format. You will still need to meet with your site-supervisor weekly. Part of the advanced internship process is to report weekly to your faculty supervisor via Canvas your progress, strengths, and areas of needed growth. You will also be expected to complete a leadership project. The hours that go into that project may be counted as direct and indirect hours. You will also need to submit one recording of a counseling session to be reviewed with your faculty supervisor and complete an evidenced based conceptualization of a client.

This plan will need to be signed by you and the faculty supervisor at the beginning of the semester.

The conceptualization should be a 5-6 page paper that will include:

WEEKLY NARRATIVE
(Form 19)

1.) Weekly Progress:

2.) Strengths/Areas of Growth

3.) Plans for Following Week Part of this internship experience is completing a leadership project. You will need to select an area of specialty and complete your leadership in one of these areas:

- Advanced Clinical Practice
- Teaching in Higher Education
- Advocacy
- Research

The leadership project can include identifying an area of clinical practice with which you have had little experience (couples, family, school counseling, group, etc), and complete a project based on increasing experience in those areas, preparing a lesson plan to present in a section of practicum or internship, volunteering in the community for an underserved counseling population, or completing a research project or literature review in an area of counseling with which you are not familiar.

These projects will need to be approved by your faculty supervisor. You will be allowed to count up to 10 hours of direct service and 20 hours of indirect service per credit hour for this project.

This project will include:
1.) Identifying your area of specialization
2.) A written component which will be specified by you and your faculty supervisor 3.) Documentation of hours logged
