Welcome!

This speaker series is designed to foster meaningful conversations, spark curiosity, and offer valuable career insights to our College of Pharmacy students. The exceptional pharmacists who have graduated from our program exemplify the transformative potential of a Christ-centered pharmacy education.

Dr. Samuel Hubler 2023 Outstanding Alumnus

CDR Samuel Hubler is a proud alumnus of the Harding University College of Pharmacy inaugural class. Hubler, originally from Gore, Oklahoma, is a dedicated professional in the field of pharmacy and health care administration. He and his wife, Kristin, have four children, Emma, Anna, Doug and Clark.

Hubler completed his undergraduate studies at Connors State College and Northeastern State University before joining the United States Air Force during pharmacy school. After graduating with a Doctor of Pharmacy in 2012, he served as pharmacy operations officer and pharmacy officer in charge at Buckley Air Force Base in Aurora, Colorado. Later he transferred to the United States Public Health Service.

Hubler holds a master's degree in health care administration from Oklahoma State University and is board certified in geriatric pharmacy. He serves as director of outpatient pharmacy services for the Muscogee (Creek) Nation and as deputy health administrator at Okmulgee Indian Health Center in Okmulgee, Oklahoma.

FAITH AND PHARMACY
